Introducing New Hampshire House In London.

New Hampshire House is a unique service for exporters. It enables a business to have a "virtual overseas office". The concept was designed to make transatlantic markets more accessible by providing a low-cost, low-risk market entry mechanism. This service can be tailored to meet the needs of small and medium-sized US firms to further assist their access to overseas markets.

In London, New Hampshire House provides US companies with a presence through a "virtual overseas office" solution, The Transatlantic Touchdown™. This enables a company to have a UK mailing address, telephone number, fax number, as well as access to meeting rooms, workspace, videoconferencing, and web-based information signposting. In addition, New Hampshire House clients will have access to a team of experts in overseas market development assistance and other "outsourced" business services.

This consolidated approach to market entry and penetration offers participating companies real solutions at a lower cost than when done independently.

The result is having a virtual presence in an overseas market at an affordable cost and addressing your specific needs.
